

JOURNAL OF FISH AND WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT

A Biannual Public Domain Publication Developed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

The Narrow-footed Hygrotus Diving Beetle Hygrotus diversipes lives in intermittent streams and is only known from a dozen locations in central Wyoming. Photograph by Lusha M. Tronstad. (see Tronstad et al. pages 330-339).

