

Advertising/Revenue Policy Statement

The International Journal of Particle Therapy (IJPT) currently does not charge any article submission or processing fees and is supported by the Particle Therapy Co-Operative Group (PTCOG) as its official journal. Online advertising represents the publication's only other source of revenue.

IJPT and PTCOG do not endorse any product or service advertised in any IJPT event publication or on its website, theijpt.org.

Editorial content and decisions are not influenced by any advertisers or sponsors. Advertisers and sponsors also have no influence over the results of searches conducted on the IJPT website.

Acceptable ads include web-based formats, such as banner advertisements, skyscraper advertisements, and/or email advertisements, approved by PTCOG and submitted by particle therapy-related businesses. Staff salaries are provided by the University of Florida College of Medicine's Department of Radiation Oncology.

PTCOG may decline any type of advertising that could be damaging to, or infringing upon, content contained on the IJPT website. In addition, advertisements and editorial content must be clearly distinguishable.

Advertising must not:

- Contain material potentially offensive to users;
- Contain deceptive or misleading claims;
- Be perceived as discriminatory toward any individual or group, including, but not limited to, discrimination on the grounds of race, age, gender, geography, sexual orientation, disability, religion, socioeconomic status, political philosophy, or scientific viewpoint.

IJPT and PTCOG may remove any advertisement on the IJPT website if it is found to breach this policy.

For questions regarding this policy or any issues related to IJPT advertising and revenue, please contact editors@theijpt.org.
