Human and Animal Experimentation Policy Statement

Human subject anonymity
Manuscripts that are reporting data from studies involving human participants are required to be reviewed by an appropriate institutional review board or ethics committee, and a statement that the study was reviewed by such a board should be included in the Material and Methods section. Those without a formal ethics committee should follow the Declaration of Helsinki.

Non-cruel animal experimentation
Indicate in the text whether the care and use of laboratory animals was followed as directed by the institution or National Research Council’s guide.

For questions regarding this policy or any issues related to IJPT instructions for authors, please contact editors@theijpt.org.